Winning the war on crime

THE police are winning the war on crime according to the latest figures from Royal Greenwich.

Overall crime has dropped by 6.5 per cent in a year for just about every type of crime, including violence, burglary and car thefts. And the Violent and Organised Crime Unit (VOCU), funded by the royal borough, has scored heavily in tackling youth violence and knife crime.

Serious youth violence is down by 15.7 per cent, with 32 fewer crimes than last year; knife crime is down by 9 per cent with 39 fewer crimes; and gun crime is down by 5.7% with five fewer offences.

VOCU-led operations have targeted drug dealers, violence and stabbings. Operation Granite in March last year led to 10 men being sentenced to a total of 29 years after VOCU detectives dismantled their drug-lines and criminal network. VOCU has also closed crack houses, recovered 33 knives, two firearms, £65,000 from the proceeds of crime and class A and class B drugs with a total street value of £20,000.

The crime-fighting unit has also managed to recover council properties which were being used as drug dens or occupied by criminals. It has charged a total of 106 people, which saw 45 going to trial with 22 found guilty of serious offences. They have also helped to relocate teenagers involved in crime

I can't thank QE Hospital enough for care and attention

Star Letter

I WOULD like to express my heartfelt thanks to all staff at Queen Elizabeth Hospital. An ambulance was called to my husband last Thursday. The two ambulance men were absolutely fantastic, and convinced my husband that he should go to hospital just to have certain checks done. We only waited about 10 minutes before he was called. They gave him a thorough check and decided to keep him in overnight as they wanted to do more checks, just in case he had had a mild heart attack. Thank goodness it transpired that he hadn't and that his blood pressure had dropped too low. I cannot fault the care and attention shown to my husband at this distressing time for him. Many, many thanks to all those involved with caring for him.

Mrs D. Warman, Plumstead

Burning issues on Blendon Terrace

OVER the last few months, three cars have been set on fire on Blendon Terrace. Last week a resident of Azile Everitt House had their car blown up. What are the police doing about this? Blendon Terrace has burnt asphalt patches on the road. This is making the street look like a war zone. Our insurance premiums will go through the roof.

Sandra Profitt, Plumstead

● POLICE in Greenwich reply: We have checked our records and we are only aware of one of the three incidents mentioned. Two incidents in Blendon Terrace and one in Azile Everitt do not appear to have been reported to police. We would urge residents to report all incidents related to arson to us so that we can investigate them and ensure that those responsible are caught. The quicker they are reported, the more chances we have to catch those involved. If you live in Blendon Terrace or Azile Everitt and wish to speak to an officer about any concerns you may have, please contact Sergeant Paul Fraser on 020-8721 2638 who will be happy to assist you.

Always royal to me

AS a child I lived in Lewisham but to me the best place ever is Greenwich. I love the park and the Maritime Museum, and the Cutty Sark was very big and beautiful to a small child. Now I'm 69, Greenwich is still my favourite place ever and it's always been royal to me.

Crime figures down and violence taking them away from criminal networks to give them a chance for a fresh start. Robbery is down by 9.1 per cent, with 68 fewer offences than the previous year.

Burglaries are down by 3.6 per cent - 65 fewer than last year. Borough Commander Richard Wood said: "Burglars are opportunists and will use anything to their advantage. In the summer we often notice a spike in burglary, when people leave their windows open or might not lock their UPVC door with a key. Our Safer Neighbourhoods officers have distributed crime prevention advice about burglary and we have also recently used Twitter to spread the word about crime prevention. We need residents to help us and make it really difficult for burglars to access their property. My officers can provide crime prevention advice and help make life difficult for burglars."

The Burglary Squad have also targeted sham builders who con elderly people out of thousands of pounds for unnecessary work. CCTV cameras have been used to catch people preying on the elderly and vulnerable.

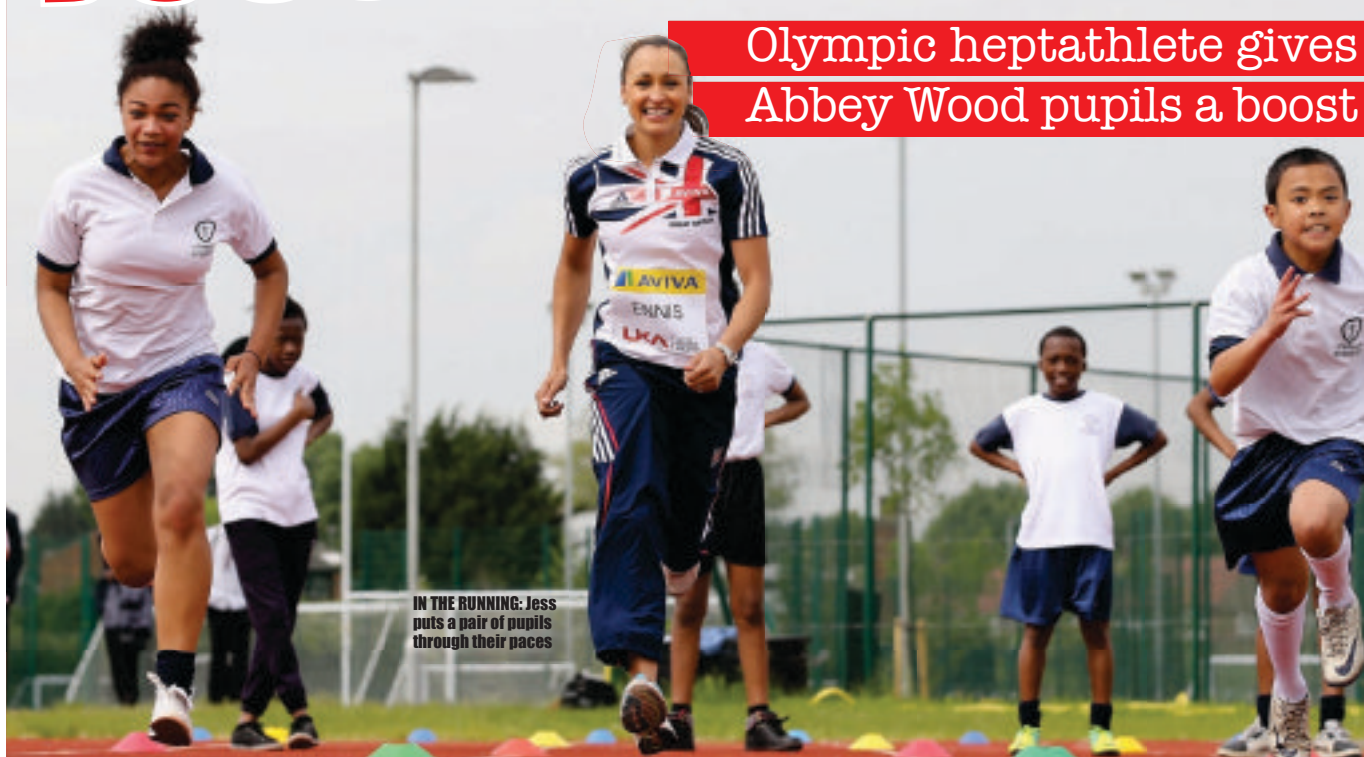

Thefts from motor vehicles are down by 18.9 per cent, with 445 fewer crimes than last year. Car thefts are down by 19.1 per cent. Some cars were driven away from their owner's driveway after keys left close to front doors were 'fished' through letterboxes.

Cllr Maureen O'Mara, cabinet member for community safety said: "This year is an important one for the royal borough and it is very encouraging to see significant falls across a number of crimes and I congratulate the police on a set of results that clearly demonstrate their commitment, dedication and professionalism."

Jess is on track

Olympic heptathlete gives Abbey Wood pupils a boost

IN THE RUNNING: Jess puts a pair of pupils through their paces

by Dick Townsend-Smith

ONE of Britain's top Olympians took time out of her busy schedule to give a motivational pep talk to students at St Paul's Academy in Abbey Wood.

Jessica Ennis, who had set a new British heptathlon record just days earlier, talked to the young people about her glittering career, and left them all fired up.

In a candid chat with them she even admitted that she still suffers from nerves.

"I always get nervous," the athlete said. "But you need to so that you can perform well. It's a good thing to get nervous."

She added: "I'm very excited about the Games and really looking forward to them - standing on top of the medals podium is the best view in the world."

Jess was given a tour of the Finchale Road school by Nathan Davies, 16. "She is amazing and really inspirational," Nathan said. "She's a real role model, and makes you feel that if she can do it, you can as well. For me, it's a privilege that the Olympics will be here in Greenwich, and I want to be able to tell my children that I was there."

Samantha Kinosa, 13, quizzed Jess about her favourite sporting venue - which turned out to be Berlin. Samantha said: "I really like the way she can do so many sports and she's really friendly as well. But the most important thing for me was when she said that you can do anything if you really go for it. Having the Olympics here is really good because so many people will be coming and learning about our country and Greenwich."

Jess presented awards to students who had demonstrated Olympic values such as determination, courage, respect, and excellence, and also led an outdoor PE session. She spent time answering questions from pupils. "What inspires me? It's both good athletes and the people around me, and my mum and dad and my family. I did psychology at university, and my advice is to do your studies so you will always have a back-up."

PRIMARY pupils were given a literary treat when the author of a book they've been studying visited their school.

BAFTA-winning author Alan Durant, who has written a number of children's books like Burger Boy, Dear Tooth Fairy and Billy Monster's Daymare, visited South Rise primary school in Plumstead to talk to the children in a special assembly about his career as a writer and what inspired him.

The pupils had been studying his book Angus Rides the Goods Train, a story about a Bosnian girl who was injured during the Balkans war and travelled to the UK for treatment.

He presented the children with a signed, original illustration from the book by Chris Riddell, and told them he was equally impressed by display work the pupils had created about his book, Angus Rides the Goods Train. Maisy, who is in Year 1 said: "When you're older you can help people - or when you're young!" Rhys, also in Year 1, added: "I was excited when he read the story. He was a very good storyteller."

Teacher Ross Silcock told GT: "As a school we firmly believe in adopting a core text approach to the teaching of literacy. Each term the whole school reads a quality text which is used as a focus for literacy lessons. "These can be learned and enjoyed in key areas of learning across the curriculum. This particular story inspired the children to explore the book's theme of social justice."

Correction: Brian O' Sullivan

Free permits to park

Locals sent details of Games time traffic plan

THOUSANDS of homes and businesses located within 30 minutes of the borough's Games venues should have received letters explaining about new temporary parking restrictions and the permits they will need during the 2012 Olympics and Paralympics.

The letters were sent following the finalisation of plans on how traffic will be managed during the Games, along with special arrangements for parking in local areas.

From next Monday (June 11) Games organisers LOCOG will have a dedicated website at www.2012gamesparkingpermits.com where residents and business people will be able to check their post code to see if they are located in an affected area, and find out how to apply for permits or visitor permits if they need them.

LOCOG will also be sending information packs to everyone affected and locals can also call LOCOG on 0300 111 2012.

In the meantime, people can also get information from the royal borough's website at www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/2012GamesParking

New temporary parking controls will be in force from July 27 to September 9 to prevent spectators from parking close to Olympic venues or using other parts of the royal borough to park.

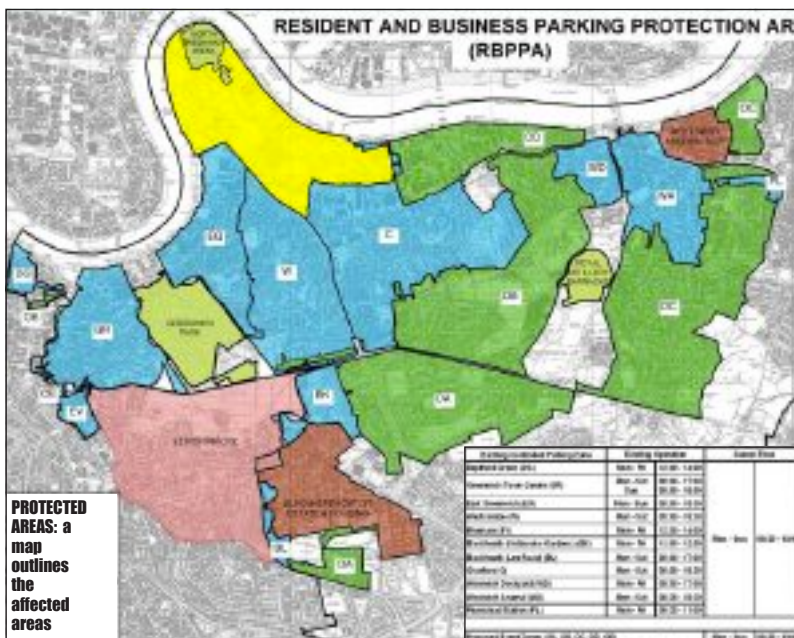

The areas covered by these temporary controls will be called the Resident and Business Parking Protection Area (RBPPA). It will cover most of the borough north of Shooters Hill and the old A2. It includes areas within existing Controlled Parking Zones (CPZs) and temporary Event Day Zones (EDZs).

Residents and businesses, who currently don't have parking permits, will need to get one - free of charge - during the Games if they are in the temporary parking zones and need to park on the street.

Temporary permits are free of charge and eligible households can also apply for permits for visitors. Current visitor vouchers will not be valid for use between July 27 and September 9. Businesses can apply for up to ten permits.

The permits and visitor permits will only be valid for the CPZ and EDZ where those who apply live or where their business is located. Anyone parking in the RBPPA without a valid permit will be fined.

The London 2012 Games are set to have a huge impact on travel in the royal borough, affecting both private and public transport as thousands of athletes, officials and visitors start to arrive.

PROTECTED AREAS: a map outlines the affected areas

The royal borough's Planning Board approved the traffic and parking proposals put forward by LOCOG after taking account of feedback from residents and business through a series of public consultation exercises.

The final plans are designed to ensure that they balance the needs of local residents and businesses with the smooth operation of the Games.

The measures detail traffic and transport arrangements around Greenwich Park - venue for the equestrian events. They also list areas in the royal borough which will need special parking permits during the Games so residents' parking is protected. Temporary measures which will come into force include:

- A temporary one-way system in Greenwich town centre during the Games
- A walking route that up to 50,000 spectators will be marshalled through on their way to the venue at Greenwich Park
- The temporary suspension of some parking bays and the closure of a small number of roads during Games Time
- Extending parking controls in existing zones from 8.30am-7pm seven days a week - and introducing some new temporary zones.

Concerns about the affect of modified transport services - particularly at London Bridge station - for local people needing daily treatment at London hospitals were also raised during the Planning Board meeting on May 24 and the royal borough is relaying these to Transport for London and South Eastern trains.

Cllr Ray Walker, chair of the royal borough's Planning Board said: "We are proud to be hosting events for the Games and we want residents and local businesses to feel a lasting benefit from them. However, we also want to ensure that local people are not inconvenienced - and we have been working closely with LOCOG to devise a traffic management plan that will ensure the smooth-running of the Games while protecting the interests of local people."

● To find out how the Games will impact you, go to www.getaheadofthegames.com

Park road to close earlier

LOCOG have asked for The Avenue through Greenwich Park to be closed to vehicle traffic from June 11, earlier than originally expected.

LOCOG agreed the plan with the Royal Parks, and Transport for London then consulted the Royal Borough of Greenwich. The council expressed concerns about the impact on local residents and businesses caused by rat-running traffic and required additional safeguards to minimise the impact of displaced traffic cutting through local roads including information to local residents and signage. Work on preparing the park for the Olympic events has been delayed by the unusually heavy rain in April and May. This has left less time to finish the world-class equestrian and modern pentathlon arena, and means the number of daily deliveries of building material will have to be stepped up.

Because of the extra traffic and potential safety risks, The Avenue is due to close to traffic from June 11 until October 1. Cyclists will still be able to use the road between 6am and 8.30am, and then from 5.30pm until the park gates close. These restrictions will remain in place until July 7 when most of the park closes for the Games. The restricted access times will begin again on September 8 and end on October 1. Pedestrians will still be able to walk alongside The Avenue through a clearly marked route until July 7 and then again from September 8.

In a letter LOCOG said: "As well as our commitment to safeguarding the park and ensuring it is properly protected, the safety of park users, whether they are motorists, cyclists or pedestrians, is critically important to us. We are working hard to reduce the impact of the Games across the borough but recognise that inevitably this may not always be possible."

London Bridge station test event restrictions

RESTRICTIONS at London Bridge station will be in force on Thursday, June 7, as Network Rail carries out test operations for Games time. It means there'll be restricted entry and exit to the station so that rail operators can plan for the large number of spectators expected to use the station during the Olympics and Paralympics.

IT was sheer delight for the sheep at Maryon Wilson Animal Park when they had their winter coats removed at an open day last week.

Families watched as nimble shearers shaved the flock, and got to go behind the scenes at the free event on Saturday May 26.

Children had their faces painted as their favourite animals and got up close and personal with the centre's horses, pigs, peacocks and guinea pigs.

It was also a chance for the park to publicise the social enterprise which has been set up to run the sanctuary.

Chair of the park's management board, Cllr Allan MacCarthy said: "A great amount of interest and support was expressed by local people and visitors, who were very impressed by the place. This is very encouraging for the future of the animal park."

Lovely jubilee!

Plumstead's Mabel Baptiste shares the memories of her very first regal street party with ROD KITSON...

AT first glance the pretty princess in the pictures looks like a young Queen Mother. But the queen in question is Plumstead's very own Mabel Baptiste.

Mabel got in touch with GT after we made an appeal for royal memories in the run up to the Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

Her pictures are from a street party to mark the Queen's coronation in 1953 where she was chosen to dress up as Her Majesty.

Mabel was 10 at the time. She told us: "It was a fantastic day, it was an absolutely gorgeous, beautiful day. I was chosen to be the Queen after the mums all had a meeting, and my mum came running back to tell me I had been picked."

"The thing that I remember most is that I came out of the front door and there was the carriage which the boys from art college had decorated, and it was being pulled by the rag and bone man's horse."

"The mothers all did can-can dancing, and they were wearing crepe paper skirts – and my mum's fell down! My dad didn't know where to put his face – it was hilarious."

"My mum wasn't embarrassed – she just pulled it up and carried on dancing."

The party took place in Silvertown, where Mabel lived until she was 16, before moving to Plumstead in 1961, where she's lived ever since.

She added: "Sometimes I look at the pictures and wonder what's happened to all the people in them."

"It's only because of the jubilee that I've started to think about it. I thought to myself, 'I wonder if GT would be interested in it' – because it's history."

"I'll be going with my daughter to a jubilee street party in Priolo Road, Charlton, to have a look and see the kids all enjoying themselves."

Travel in Greenwich will be affected during the Games

Olympic Games: 27 July – 12 August 2012

Paralympic Games: 29 August – 9 September 2012

This year brings the largest sporting events in the world to the UK – the Olympic and Paralympic Games. Because we're hosting these large events you'd expect roads and public transport to be much busier than usual.

We will be working hard to host a great Games and keep London moving. The information on this map will help you understand where the transport network will be busiest and how your journey could be affected.

The Olympic and Paralympic Route Networks (ORN/PRN)

This network of roads connecting venues, accommodation and transport hubs across London will be open to all general traffic. Some changes to these roads will be in place to ensure reliable journeys for athletes, officials, workers and media.

In Greenwich, these changes will include the use of Blackwall Tunnel Approach, Sun in the Sands roundabout, Shooters Hill Road, Charlton Park Lane, Maze Hill, Park Row and Park Vista. As part of the network the roads will contain a number of measures including suspended bus stops and changes to parking and kerbside restrictions.

Measures will be in place during both the Olympic and Paralympic Games and shortly before and after. Some measures will remain in place between the Games.

Vehicles that park or stop illegally on the ORN/PRN will be issued with a fine and could be taken to a vehicle pound.

Games Lanes

These clearly marked Lanes will be on about a third of the ORN/PRN and when operational they will not be open to general traffic. They will only be available for accredited vehicles and the adjacent lane will remain open to general traffic.

To avoid being issued with a penalty charge notice, motorists should not drive in the Games Lanes when they are operational. They will be easily identifiable by clear markings on the Lanes and signs along the roadside.

Venues in Greenwich

Greenwich is host to three Olympic and Paralympic venues:

- Greenwich Park will host Equestrian and Modern Pentathlon
- North Greenwich Arena will host Artistic and Trampoline Gymnastics, Basketball and Wheelchair Basketball
- Royal Artillery Barracks will host Shooting, Paralympic Shooting and Paralympic Archery.

Each venue will operate on different dates and will have its own arrangements for allowing access for spectators who will arrive in the Borough using public transport.

For more detailed information about each venue and the local area traffic management in place around it, please visit www.london2012.com.

Parking

During the Olympic and Paralympic Games a local resident and business parking protection area will be in operation in Greenwich. For more information about how this will operate please go to: www.2012gamesparkingpermits.com (available from 11 June).

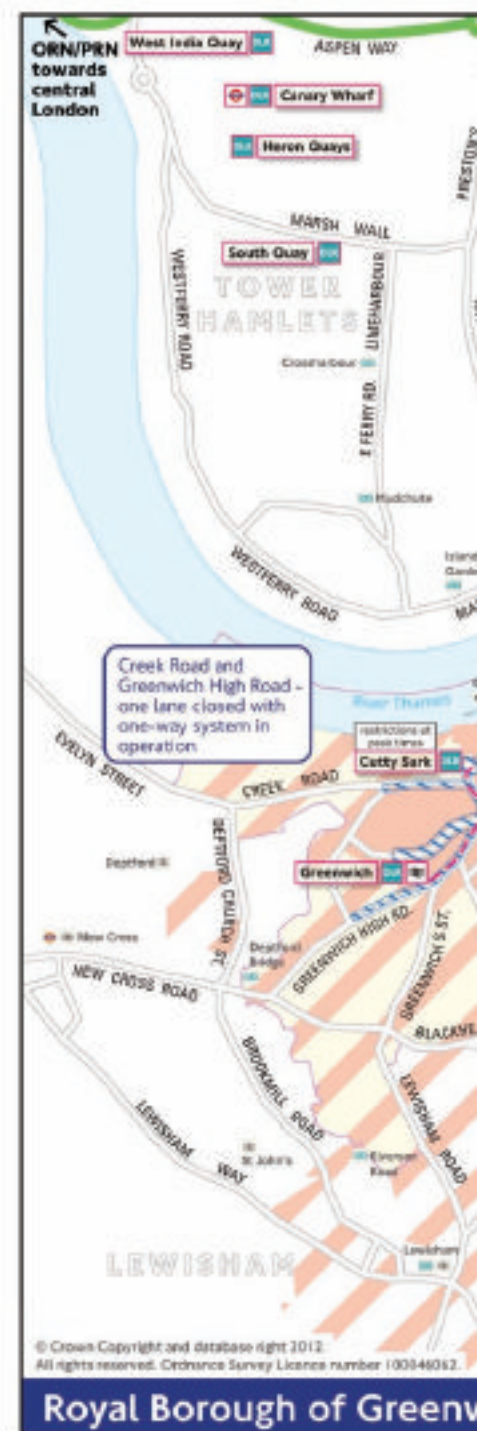

Olympic Torch Relay

The Olympic Torch Relay will pass through Greenwich on Saturday, 21 July. There will be a rolling road closure as it travels through the borough.

Public transport

Some stations and lines will be particularly busy including North Greenwich and Greenwich. You can minimise disruption to your journey by avoiding these stations at the busiest times.

Some bus services will operate more frequently and there will also be some diversions. Detailed information will be available closer to the Games.

*You pay no more than 5p per minute if calling from a BT landline.
There may be a connection charge. Charges from mobiles or other landline providers may vary.

Nightingale sings

PUPILS at Nightingale Primary School in Bloomfield Road, Woolwich, marked the Diamond Jubilee in style on Thursday (May 31) with a special celebration of British culture. They held a street party-style lunch outdoors featuring a Great British Buffet, while dressed in red, white and blue, or as princes, queens or princesses. Parents, carers and family members went along to watch maypole and street dances, performing clowns and a puppet show. The afternoon finished with a sing-along to Beatles' songs, and presentations to the winners of cake decorating and house cricket, and the best-dressed Britons. The children were full of praise for Her Majesty, Jamie Page, 11, said: "It's good to have a queen on the throne because she is kind and thoughtful and someone you can look up to." Amaya Ball, nine, was looking forward to a celebration barbecue with family, friends and neighbours. And Chelsea Callaghan, 11, said: "Everyone admires the Queen and it's good to celebrate her Diamond Jubilee. She has honoured us by making Greenwich a royal borough, and we are honouring her jubilee."

UNDER-fives at the Acorn Pre-school had their very own guardsman at their Diamond Jubilee party last week. He was among the scores of fancy dressed toddlers at the early years centre in Glimpsing Green, Thamesmead. They took part in coin rubbing, flag making and icing biscuits followed by lunch provided by the parents and dancing to the very best of British music. Top, with flags, Ifeferinsola Seriki and above Lily-Ellien Crossshall.

Let them eat cake!

THE royal borough's new mayor Cllr David Grant helped to cut a celebratory cake at a Charlton celebration for the Queen's Diamond Jubilee. He did the honours with resident June Butt who stood in for the Queen. Around 150 people joined in the party at the Charlton Family Centre in Shirley House Drive, Charlton, last Tuesday. Youngsters from the centre and the nearby Springfield Creche in on the ground floor of Langhorne House in Springfield Grove, came along with their parents and carers. Both organisations are supported by Charlton Triangle Homes which manages a thousand homes in the Charlton area and sponsored the party. The children aged 16 months to five years enjoyed a Punch and Judy show, ceremonial cake cutting, a brass band, face painting, flag making and pinatas containing sweets for the children. The young party-goers all left with a commemorative Queen's Diamond Jubilee mug. Mum, Katre Poder who went with her daughter, Lola, said: "It's been a lovely day with lots of entertainment. Everyone looks very happy and we have had a wonderful time. 'The Queen' and the Mayor were great".

IT would be easy to assume that the beast at the heart of Crow is a dark and brooding creation from the mind of a tortured artist.

Ted Hughes wrote the poetry book of the same name in 1970, just a handful of years after the suicide of his soulmate Sylvia Plath - a time when he proclaimed his own life to be over.

But Crow's outlook is surprisingly positive. It was a work which the author described as his 'masterpiece', marking the turning point from a barren period following Plath's death.

The world premiere of the stage adaptation - a mixed puppetry and dance performance - comes to the Borough Hall later this month.

Director Mervyn Millar told Scene: "Hughes talks about the crow being the ultimate survivor. It's the most intelligent bird, and he talks about it being 'what's inside every Englishman'."

"The crow never gives up - it's continually abused and ostracised. It's incredibly beautiful, but incredibly grotesque. It can't help being savage, it can't help being optimistic. It can't help being curious, and it can't help taking things apart to find out how they work."

The Handspring puppet company, which created War Horse before it was made into a Hollywood blockbuster, was commissioned by the royal borough to make the show which runs from June 21 to July 7 at the Royal Hill venue.

The director added: "A lot of the poems take place in quite a dark world, but the crow moves through them with absolutely irrepressible life, and that's what Hughes is looking for. It's a way of facing up to dark times with a positive spin."

The puppetry and dance work responds to the book as a whole,

The world premiere of Crow comes to Greenwich later this month. ROD KITSON talks to director Mervyn Millar about the work's misunderstood hero

Something to crow about...

CAW: director Mervyn Millar and puppet-headed star of the show with all of the words in the show taken verbatim from Hughes.

"The book of Crow has 40 or 50 poems in it - it doesn't come together to create one story - they're different angles of looking at this one character," Millar said. "We filtered through the poems and took the ones that seemed to work best for us, so you'll hear about a dozen or more of the poems themselves.

"We've worked to preserve the sense of it as a collection of fragments and thoughts about a subject rather than trying to turn it into a story, which was not how it was conceived."

Eleven large-scale puppets and six dancers combine at close quarters to the audience. A hallmark of Handspring's work is that the puppeteers are always visible. "It's the work of the puppeteer that makes it alive," Millar said. "The skill and sensitivity of the performer brings the poetry on stage.

"We try and design puppets that can support that. In some cases that means levers and strings and mechanisms, and sometimes it's the simplest possible object, almost just a stick. But it's what you do with it that makes it effective."

Hughes died in 1998, but what does the director think he would make of the adaptation?

"I hope he'd have liked it. It's been our intention to stay true to the spirit of what his writing is. We've done a lot of work to connect with what he was trying to create, then we've run with it in our own direction.

"When we went and put War Horse together we put something that was pretty strange on stage - three performers in full view of the audience trying to be a horse. It's not what you see in Disney films - and the same applies here. If you put good work in front of people with honest intentions, they can see what they like about it."

Steven Spielberg latched on to War Horse and made that a smash - could this one be taken up by Hollywood?

"I'd love to see what Spielberg would make of it - but maybe this would be more suited to Tim Burton or Ridley Scott."

The show might even make audiences look at the much-maligned bird in a new light, says the director. "When you look at them out there with their little beady eyes, they don't give up exploring. You associate them with destruction and misfortune, but actually what they are doing is surviving."

Crow is part of Greenwich and Docklands International Festival and the Greenwich Festivals. Mon-Sat June 21 - July 7 at Borough Hall. Tickets £12-£18.

LABAN THEATRE, CREEKSIDE

Transitions Dance Company - Mixed Bill

Thurs 7, Fri 8, Sat 9 Jun

FORGET the talent shows of Saturday night television and bear in mind the work and hard graft of everyday stars on your doorstep.

Real life talent is on the menu with at Transitions, a dance company with Trinity Laban Conservatoire of Music and Dance. They perform with the Laban Theatre in mid-June, unearthing their craft through creative dance and movement. The mixed bill encompasses the wide ranging geography and personalities involved in the project, with dancers from Italy, Australia, America and Cyprus among others. Artistic creator for Transitions and previous member of the group, David Waring told Scene: "This show will reveal a diverse range of work. It's a programme that offers something for everyone because the dancers give a performance that is theatrical, humorous, technical, philosophical and overall very challenging.

"What's interesting is our dancers have to be versatile, they have to bring something different each time they perform."

The dancers won't be the only ones showcasing their talent - Trinity College of Music students' work is on the bill too. "There's some specially written compositions from the college with a rhythmic score and atmospheric sounds like an electric drill," he added.

GreenwichHomes

Royal Borough of Greenwich's Choice Based Lettings Scheme

Edition 290

How the lettings policy works

Housing applicants are placed within 'Bands' according to the Royal Borough of Greenwich's policy for letting homes. Your band information is on the letter that the Council sent you when you registered, or when your circumstances changed. Property adverts say which band can apply and any other criteria. When all the bids are received, the property is then offered to: For properties advertised for band A and band B - the applicant who has had this priority status for the longest time. For properties advertised for band C applicants - the applicant who has been registered on the Council's list for the longest time.

BAND

- A is for applicants in unsatisfactory housing, including people moving due to demolition and those underoccupying their homes.
- B is for applicants the Royal Borough of Greenwich must prioritise according to the law, particularly homeless people, and others with an urgent need to move for medical or welfare reasons.
- C is for all applicants on the housing register, including those that are in priority bands A and B.

How do I apply?

Get on the list

First, you've got to be on the housing waiting list to join the scheme. If you're not, register an application on line at www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk

Find your applicant number

It will be on the letter you've already had from the Royal Borough of Greenwich about the new scheme. You'll need that number and the reference number of the property you're after, which will be on the advert.

Pick out your ideal property

by looking in Greenwich Time or regularly checking the website:

www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/homes

Click on your preference on the website. If you don't have a computer, you can always use one for free in either your neighbourhood housing office, library or UK Online centre.

Apply in one of two ways

- Phone the 24-hour hotline 020 8921 4340. It's an automatic push-button system and calls will be charged at the normal local rate, or
- Via the Royal Borough of Greenwich's website www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/homes

The next edition of GreenwichHomes will be available on Wednesday 13 June 2012 at midday and will include any Housing Association properties when available. Closing date for all applications for this issue is midnight on Sunday 10 June 2012.

Small is beautiful the Under Occupation scheme

If you are living in a Council property that is too big for you, we can help you to move to somewhere smaller.

The Council will pay your removal costs, and £350 for each bedroom gained.

To join the scheme you must be willing to move to a home with two bedrooms less than you have now:

- 3 bedroom to a 1 bedroom home
- 3 bedroom parlour/4 bedroom to a 1 or 2 bedroom home
- 5 bedroom to a 3 bedroom (or smaller) home

GreenwichHomes

Royal Borough of Greenwich's Choice Based Lettings Scheme

Important Notice

Changes to the rents and tenancies of some advertised housing association properties.

Affordable Housing

Currently the rent level for the properties you see advertised in Greenwich Homes is significantly lower than full market rents in private sector housing.

From now you will now be seeing some housing association properties advertised for higher rents, up to eighty percent of the market rent. These rents will also include the service charge that you will need to pay for the property. We will use the phrase Affordable Housing on the adverts to help you identify these properties.

Please note the Council will continue to advertise all the homes it owns at the standard rent level.

You can bid for properties advertised as Affordable Housing in exactly the same way as for other advertised properties. If you are successful the housing association may want to check you have enough income to pay the higher rent, whether you are working or on benefits. If you are currently a housing association tenant the rent you pay on your present home will not be affected by this change.

Fixed term tenancies

You will also notice that the tenancies for Affordable Housing and some other housing association properties may now be for a shorter period than the present lifetime tenancies offered by housing associations. The phrase Fixed term tenancy will be used in the adverts to identify these properties. The tenancy details will be explained to you if you are successful when you view the property.

Please think about these changes when bidding for an Affordable housing property and make sure you can afford the home that you choose.

This is what happened to the homes advertised in issue 287

Sophie's swim for her Nanna's 80th birthday

WATER BABE:
Sophie's all smiles after her big swim

NINE-year-old Sophie Lockett dived in to do something extra special for her Nanna's 80th birthday. The Wyborne primary school pupil swam no less than 1,000 metres to raise £1,000 for the Alzheimer's Society. Sophie, whose grandmother suffers from the disease, completed the swim in just 30 minutes, cheered on by family and friends and with a well-deserved bar of chocolate waiting for her. "I wanted to do something special for her and other people like her. I did it for Alzheimer's and especially for my Nanna." Sophie, who lives in New Eltham, has been swimming since she was a baby and her favourite stroke is the front crawl. Her proud mother, Sonia, said: "Her target was to get £700 in sponsorship. We all think she's done brilliantly to get even more than that! "So far she has raised £850 online at her Just Giving page and on top of that people have given £200 in cash donations." The Alzheimer's Society is also the chosen charity of new Mayor David Grant.

Cllr Grant said: "It is really moving that someone so young should be doing this. It emphasises that dementia touches the lives of people of all ages." ● READERS wishing to make a donation should visit www.justgiving.com/Sophie-Lockett.

Summer open window warning

PARENTS and carers are being reminded about reducing the risk of accidental falls through open windows during the hot weather this summer. It follows six recent incidents across London where children were injured after falling from windows or balconies. The Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents advises parents to avoid placing anything under windows that can be climbed on as well as fitting child resistant window restrictors. Landlords must also make certain that their properties comply with all the required safety standards. Cllr Jackie Smith, the royal borough's cabinet member for children's services, said: "When the weather is hot it is important to remember that open windows and balconies can be hazardous to children. By being aware of the risks and taking some basic precautions parents will be helping their children to enjoy a fall-free summer."

Ibrahim's hat-trick. Manor battled well in all their games without winning and there were rumblings in the ranks about the gaffer.

The day was organised by Rick Everitt and run by another local legend, community sport guru Sean Daly, who arranged for kids to have their pics taken with Charlton's League One trophy.

Cardwell made it through to the semis despite falling behind to a lovely goal by Thomas A Becket lefty Connor McCormack – anyone else spot him? – and facing an inspired goalie in Richard Kanu. But who else but Ibrahim scored the equaliser from the tightest of angles!

All the while, the team in the blue shirts and yellow socks on pitch two caught the eye – St Margaret's from Plumstead, who would meet Cardwell in the final after detaching the brilliantly-supported Hawksmoor, from Thamesmead, in the other semi.

One goal from Ibrahim was enough to get past another Thamesmead side, Linton Mead, and reach the final for Cardwell. Perhaps the highlight of the day was the wonderful reception the defeated Linton Mead players got from their supporters as they trooped off. That's what it's all about.

The smart money was on St Margaret's in the final and they certainly had their chances, but Cardwell keeper Dval Doh kept them out brilliantly and banged in one of the crucial kicks in the penalty shoot-out that won the trophy for Cardwell. Phew, what a scorcher!

The Cardwell squad for their grandchildren to confirm in years to come was: Dval Doh, Charlie Scowen, Jaydon Brown, Ronny Shakpoke, Sharif Ibrahim, Joel Musa, Emmanuel Begah, Akram Abdul.

Goal machine!

Sharp Sharif scores ELEVEN as Cardwell win the Cup

by Peter Cordwell

EVERYONE went home with a medal, but it was the tenacious team from Cardwell that took off on the wonderfully haphazard race of triumph around The Valley.

After two hours of six-a-side football in the sun, a goalkeeper that stood as proud as Bartram and a striker – 11-year-old Sharif Ibrahim who scored ALL their goals – Cardwell from Woolwich were proud winners of the Charlton Athletic Primary Schools Trophy.

"I'm speechless...which is unusual for me," said manager/coach Anna Sullivan at the cheers rang out. "I just called the head, Carol Smith, and she was cheering down the phone!"

Anna is a Charlton fan herself and she exclaimed: "They actually played on the pitch!"

Twenty-six teams from 23 royal borough schools competed on four pitches across the hallowed turf. GT attached itself to a squad to follow as the teams assembled in the West stand – as the universe would have it, Cardwell!

And who did Anna suggest I get the quotes from? None other than Sharif. "I played here last year and it's great to play on the grass, it's really comfortable," he said. "You've got to keep your concentration and play as a team, not just for yourself. I play in midfield, attacking."

He could say that again.

Prominent school sports personality Ed Price geed his Charlton Manor side up for the clash with Cardwell but were seen off three-nil by
